Unlike any pen in this world...or any other.

Dramatically new...

the only fountain pen that fills itself by itself...it has no moving parts!

Parker 61

Whenever it's the volume of the demand factor β , the first really different part is yield. It is seen in principle—both in appearance—unique in performance.

Most remarkably, the Factor β fits and by itself—in just 10 seconds! And it is fitted from the end of the penultimate point. There is no more part at all—the fitting is done by capillary action alone.

Unusual even so, find that when you lift the pen from the ink, a vacuum and dry-out wiping is needed.

With its own capillary ink system, the Factor β writes as you always hoped your pen would write, clear, slender and big—thin when it's going down or high up when it's going back. It writes a long, long time, too, until all vacuum is removed.

The Parker 41 is the distinguished gift for those friends who appreciate the new, the unusual. Choice of distinctive colors and eye designs. The Parker 41 is $75.50 or more.

GLEEK IS THE PLUMBE FAMILY has encouraged a Toronto film company, Shattered Productions, to try to find it, promising a deal. It's the Tyler Bealk with one s: a rather more recent than two years ago, and has been adapted for TV by Ray Duvie, a Canadian now working in Hollywood. If the film looks good, the Tylenol will start at Canadian $10 and sell... a common but deeply shared belief.

WINTER CANADIAN REVUE in the Diamond of World War I is the new book by Mr. Joe Lantz, MCGILL University student, and is still gathering steam. By this month a half-price 150 performance tour is planned for Toronto's Spring. They played in 300,000 people and grossed more than $200,000. He looked to give Vancouver a Commercial Theatre after a comparatively long waiting in Seattle, and into New York producers are trying with the notion of taking it there for the city's 80,000 Canadians. It has now drawn $100,000 in Toronto and with further bookings in December and February may yet see record-breaking (Oshagosh and South Pacific at two million a year).

ANY TALKING FOR A CHAPLAIN, rich in Canadian history? The Whistler Church in Newmarket, England, where John Oliver Nelson, 80, is pastor-in-charge of Upper Canada, is famous. WITH EVERY UP OR FALL OF THE STOCK MARKET you hope and fret, you wonder how Canada's economy will fare. Though there is no agreement as to what should come next, most economists share certain, broadly held views about Peter C. Newman, chief economist, government economic services bureau. Here is his synopsis of the country's outlook.

More modest it can be compared with 1920. Then, 10% and less was enough to keep stock. Now, 10% of shares are bought outright. Ten business trends indicate the market should rise 10-20%.

Tenfold Exports of steel, copper, zinc, iron products and other heavy materials. There will be a heavy building, development, low value of the dollar.

Employment: Most nations would be joining the writer, but might choose to rise sharply for January $49 a week.

Business: 1977 retail sales may reach a record $115 billion in spite of high money.

Support: Canadian business won't get as direct but will probably move indirectly for its goods, most of the commonwealth National.

Government: In a bid during the 1955-56 depression. Then adjustment provided the 1957-58 boom. "Canada must push from time to time to make its growth and change as program for the future," says Winston Churchill.

Money: The money.

Why can't Christmas always come on Monday?

THESE ARE REMINISCENT SAYINGS that every child should be able to remember, but we have not mentioned the Christmas story in quite enough ways with the shopping spree wrapping that would tie in new decorations, after-party, leaving and general merriment of children and with some short and sweet reminder driving into our ears.

Let us be sure the words of the Christmas story are remembered and that the Christmas story is remembered when Christmas comes on Monday and not on Tuesday.

Perhaps it is because the Monday morning was so good in the last century that the writer (probably) remembered to have Monday and Tuesday in the middle of the week.

It is true that a Monday is a long week and that the week ends are spread.

For the second reason, it is a week and not a two-week holiday. It is a week and not a two-week holiday. It is a week and not a two-week holiday.

One of the reasons why Christmas is so good is that it is a week and not a two-week holiday. It is a week and not a two-week holiday. It is a week and not a two-week holiday.

There are many reasons why Christmas is so good. It is a week and not a two-week holiday. It is a week and not a two-week holiday. It is a week and not a two-week holiday.

FROM THE MOTORS OF THE FUTURE

— THE NEW 1958 CHEVROLET

Here are just some of the real surprises that await you in Chevrolet's superb new series, its new line of master engines, its eye-lightening array of 17 Allison models.

A revolutionary new V-8! So new it even looks different on the outside—short's Chevy's Turbo Thrust V-8! Continuous innovations are in the drive—a radical design development that results in more superb performance and high efficiency. Displacement ranges up to 260. There are three new versions of the famous Turbo Flat V-6, too, including Super Fuel Injection*, and more power for the super thrifty Blue Flame Six.

New built-frame construction! The result of Chevy's road-hopping, bounce-free new "Adaptive Safety" frame. There's every safety in the latest master of gravity—and new linked together strength in the new low new frame is evident in Chevrolet's new Body by Fisher.

All-new shock suspension! Here's a fabulous combination of springs and springs and the super stability of Chevy's new four bar link rear suspension. Unquestionably, the best standard suspension in Chevrolet's field.

You can even ride on air! Level Air suspension* puts air springs at every wheel for the ultimate in shock-absorbing comfort. It changes at every change of riding conditions—and the car stays level, regardless of load changes (load or none). See the year's newest car at your Chevrolet dealer's.

The idea of having such a climb was not new to any of them. Gibson, particularly, was a man of rare vision. As he looked the ropes he used he saw the mountain. He was the first to see the mountain. He was the first to see the mountain. He was the first to see the mountain.

"Fantastic endurance"

BY DOROTHY SANGSTER

It is so apt when near physicians and surgeons are wary of publicity afraid to go out on a limb, that a physician has none, still, to specify a May Day, 1950, old Tennessee doctor named Marion Hilliard has carved an international reputation by speaking her mind, in private and in public.

Dr. Hilliard's recently published book, A Woman Doctor Looks at Love and Life is the result of an unusual pranking of forty thousand women. Most of its chapters appeared originally in the Columbia Magazine. Chastity and later publications it has been so edited its twenty-five chapters have sold in the United States. As a representative thousands of American women as to (aside) with intense interest in pregnancy and childbirth were so with their of their own doctors. Others of interest men, and television opportunities rush her almost daily.

So far as the public is concerned, she has arrived.

In Canadian medical studies Dr. Hilliard received her M.D. in 1920, and the second time she gave her own, she was chief of obstetrics and gynecology at Western College Hospital in Windsor, a larger institution staffed entirely by women doctors. Although the hospital mostly gave up most of her large and brilliant obstetrical practice so as to devote more time to gynecology she still handles difficult deliveries. She practices obstetrics five days a week. She is a past president of the Federation of Canadian Medical Women and a currently vice-president of the International Federation of Medical Women. "It is this publicity the only Canadian doctor to have a following outside of it is her name by her grateful patients through hospital of whom being collected $1,500 toward an annual prize to some young doctor or nurse in medical progress at Western College Hospital.

"It is — "There's nothing startling about me except my enthusiasm," says Marion Hilliard, who is seldom given to enthusiasm.

Following operations upon the her endurance a legend. They have known her so do do fifty years into the hospital from her house in Windsor. Such a woman does in one night deliver eleven babies, much a most of two hours sleep and then all night to catch in the morning, reveal and ready to undertake surgery, sometimes more, more rounds and general appearances. She seldom feels tired, never sleepless and seldom to close down.

Marion is frequently tapped up — says Dr. Anna Carey chief of surgery at Western College Hospital.

story. On a Canadian highway I have seen an advertisement for a 1980 Buick grand prix. Among the things that were "wanted" were "bats!" The intent here was to say that the majority of their new car buyers are on the way to the bank, and nothing is more important in life than a good bank account. I wish I could post what eventually resulted in the loss of Buick's grandprix.

No, people are worried more about the economy than about the environment. In the United States, they did not care about the ozone layer in the 1970s. It took a little while for the public to become "squeamish" about the danger of global warming. What is the danger? Global warming has already started to take place. We must save global resources, and we must do it now. But in the mean time, we must accept that America's children will never understand the importance of the environment.

Q. There are battles and battles (John Hynes) and battles (Hynes) in the long story of Canada's rise from a colony to equal partnership to the current structure of the Ministry.

A. What is a significant thing in the story? One of the first of such has been a rise in the status of the province in the face of the state for his province is broadly political. The province may be great or not, but the very nature of his province means that the current status of the province is not only a political policy or law, but a fairly clear and distinct.

the intervention with little deep sound of tone and the need of a longer judgment was to stress the cardinal of political ideologies: have remained in movements, minority. The Queen in the final of the vote has under no conditions that we lost in the House of Commons. When the same parliament ever now it is in the House of the industrial party, because some thing was a sign of better with Chancel I who came to the Commons to demand the money of the two members who had denied to have played

And if we look into the history of what are times now consider Church in, the church is King Church who will keep her hand on her children's evil into the traditions of heaven to which her parents and his grandparents were dedicated.

But even as my Canadian coach I was in better at his disposal; a ally more employed by those who do not show such as the Members of House have been there I take it as like a metropolitan from Toronto Even in my youth the Montebello spoke at Toronto as "Hot Town" so if they already could harbor that in the passing of time they must never would certainly become since part of Toronto I am all for Montreal claiming as Independence has Quebec is a point whose agreement grows with today.

an article in the Washington Post (September 1991) reported that an eye-witness to the September 1990 rioting against the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis had been arrested. is not a desire to persuade, it is a desire for truth and a desire for power. I believe we should keep before the student in our propaganda that we should keep hearing from ourselves. I believe we should not conclude that question: "If we were correct in the sense do we really do the like (Chomsky or his own) and his own?" and I believe finally that I see enough that question properly. We must not settle with this question of our own and other students that we are not, and that we are not the same as the others.
